July 10th - Fred Roos' Middle of the Road Band

July 24th - Deja Vu

July 31st - Golden Angels Jazz Band

August 21st - Paul King Orchestra

One of the favorite activities the Third Taxing District does as a public service to our community, - bringing you the Summer Concert Series. During five Sundays throughout the summer, we'll bring you free concerts on Sunday afternoons at 3:00 pm. held in the band-mobile at Calf Pasture Beach. Bring a lawn chair and join your neighbors!

This year, the concerts listed above offer a varied mix of sounds from Ragtime Jazz and Country and Western to the Big Band Sound of yesteryear. Details of the bands are listed below:

June 26th - Bob Lasprogato and the Uptown Jazz - Bob's group is new to us this year. Always a favorite at the Levitt Pavilion and the Oyster Festival, Bob gets our 2005 season off to an upbeat start.

July 10th - Fred Roos' Middle of the Road Band - From Second Street in East Norwalk - our own Fred Roos and his Country and Western Band. The opening act for the Charlie Daniels Band several years ago at the Oyster Festival, it was hard to tell who was who.

July 24th - Deja Vu - A talented mix of accomplished voices who perform some of the most pleasant and lyrical musical messages from yesteryear.

July 31st - Golden Angels Jazz Band - A musical travel through the history of Jazz. From Ragtime to Louis Armstrong - come hear the sounds from which all American music has evolved. These talented men's renditions of the infectious Ragtime beat will have your toes tapping and your fingers snapping all afternoon.

August 21st - Paul King Orchestra - Performing the sounds of the big band era this 21 piece orchestra plays a musical repertoire from Dorsey to Goodman. From "I Got Rhythm" to "In the Mood". Jitterbugging on the sidewalks only!!!

SAVE ENERGY - PARTICULARLY ON HOT AFTERNOONS

Business of the Month

Park View Variety and Deli, occupies a spot at 10 First Street at the corner of New Street, has been a favorite spot of the East Norwalk breakfast and lunch crowd for more than half a century. Most old time East Norwalkers will remember this spot as Lewis' Confectionery Store and Soda Fountain as far back as the 60's.

Mr. Chubby, John Margewicz, changed the business name to Cove Variety when he bought it in 1975. From 1986 through 2002 several different owners operated a Deli/Variety store from this location including William O'Boy; Paul Kokias, who now owns the Market Basket; and Peggy and Michele Magee.

George Toromanides changed the name to Park View Variety and Deli

when he took over the spot 2 1/2 years ago. George has over 28 years experience in the food service industry and is a veteran of hotel, restaurant, and resort cooking. George finally found that serving people face to face on a one on one basis was his true love and has brought his talents of food preparation and hospitality together at Park View.

Along with the usual deli offerings, Park View is also a well stocked luncheonette serving everything from egg sandwiches to hot dish specials. George likes to mix up his hot dish menu from Oriental to Italian cuisine. Looking for something special for lunch? Tell George about it and you just might find it on next week's menu.

Park View Variety and Deli

Located at 10 First Street, Park View Variety and Deli has continued this corner's legacy for good food and good service since 2002.

Electric Company Workers Hang American Flags

Third Taxing District Electric Department linemen hang the American Flags along the Memorial parade route.

There are many ways the Third Taxing District helps the City get things done. From as important as underwriting the cost of street lights throughout East Norwalk to as simple as helping get the American Flags hung on the utility poles from Vet's Park to the Green for the Memorial Day parade.

Although the streets north of the Thruway are not in our District, we volunteered the services of our linemen and a bucket truck to get the job done when there was a snafu in the Department of Public Works scheduling.

Each year, Ms. Courtney Austin from the Girl Scouts takes the flags from us and cleans and refurbishes them for next year. We are proud to help such a worthy cause.
